

NEA-New Mexico Mentoring Program

The NEA-NM Mentorship Program supports the development of member leaders and early career educators. By providing mentorship, NEA-NM and the Center for Community Schools are advancing social justice in education by ensuring that early career educators are prepared to design inclusive spaces for all learners by employing anti-racist, community-based, identity-affirming, and culturally and linguistically responsive practices in their classrooms.

We are seeking practicing educators to join our 2025-2026 mentor cohort. We will provide mentors with robust training throughout their first year in the program. The content of the training aims to cultivate the dispositions and skills needed to support early career educators. Visit the link to learn more about this paid opportunity, preferred experience, and apply today. No prior coaching or mentoring experience is required.
